Japan continued

In 2016, IRV Japan secured the 2.98 sq km Omui mining license on the island of Hokkaido, Japan. To augment its land position, IRV Japan has secured 2.18 sq km of surface rights and filed 55 prospecting licenses covering an additional 170.56 sq km of prospective ground encompassing the entirety of the Omu volcanic graben.

Irving's 2017 exploration program at Omu, carried out by Mitsui Mineral Development Engineering Co., Ltd. (MINDECO), included stream sediment analyses by Bulk Leach Extractable Gold (BLEG) method, a detailed soil grid, a detailed gravity survey and drone-based magnetics. Results proved highly encouraging and helped target advanced exploration including trenching, drilling and bulk sampling.

In late 2018, IRV Japan received approval of its Mine Plan at Omui as well as approval of its Otoineppu Prospecting Plan covering diamond drilling and advanced exploration at the Omu Sinter.

From March to August 2019, the company drilled 8 diamond holes at Omu Sinter. Of those initial eight holes that tested 2 km long N-S trending target, seven encountered high-grade vein mineralization.

Irving conducted extensive geophysical surveys including controlled-source audio magnetotellurics ("CSAMT"), gravity and magnetics, and the company has identified several high-priority targets within a one km radius of Honpi. In December 2019, 10 diamond drill holes at Omui Mine site have been completed. Irving anticipates undertaking additional drilling at Omui Mine site once snow melts in April or May. The drill has been relocated to Omu Sinter where it will resume drilling in January, 2020.
